

I am requesting that you make no changes that would lessen the no-call law already in place in Indiana. I resent having my privacy intruded upon by telephone solicitors. Before the IN law went in effect, we were receiving as many as 12 call per day. Since the law went into effect, we have had a total of 3 during the entire time. With the exception of the recent election campaign when we once again received as many as 8 calls per day from the 2 candidates for State Rep. I hope that unsolicited campaign calls will be added to the list. My mother is also on the no call list and is in ill health. Having to get up to answer the phone repeatedly for unsolicited calls is a health hazard for her. Everyone I know who is on the list is extremely happy with the results. Please do not cave in to the demands of an industry who preys on unwilling victims. If they want to send me their junk, do it through the mail, I'm sure the Post Office could use the extra money. At least that way I can throw it in the trash and not be bothered by it. Thank you, Bonita L. Nelson
